SORROWING FRIENDS GATHER AT FUNERAL OF REV. OWEN

Beloved Pastor is Laid to Rest From the Church, for the Building of Which he Labored

The community was saddened this week by the death of Rev. Harry Owen, pastor of the Methodist church of this city for the past two years, which occured Tuesday night at Mills Memorial hospital at San Mateo. Rev. Owen had been in poor health for several years, and had come to Redwood City in hopes that he might regain his health. He had several serious spells of illness during his residence here and had been confined to the hospital during the last spell for about a week.

Rev. Owen was born in Shropshire, England on September 27, 1870. While still quite young he began preparing for the ministry, which he entered at the age of 18. He received his Doctor of Divinity degree from an English college.

For 25 years Dr. Owen continued his ministerial work in England, having several churches under his supervision. In 1912 he came to California and located in San Jose, where he was pastor of the First Methodist church of that place. He later went to Australia, and still later returned to California, where he assumed the pastorate of the First Church of Oakland.

Dr. Owen in 1913 was transferred to Santa Clara where he remained for some time, to leave again in 1913 for Panama. It was in Panama that he displayed his great ability in building churches. He, while there, raised the entire amount necessary for the construction of a large church building.

Following his labors in the Canal Zone Dr. Owen returned to England. Here in recognition of his abilities and his travels he was made a member of the Royal Geographical Society, a very great distinction and an honor only granted to those who have shown marked ability along intellectual lines.

Dr. Owen came to Redwood City two years ago and was joined last year by Mrs. Owen. It was his intention when coming to California to rest and regain his health, which had been impaired by his exertions of the past years. His desire to see the work of his church forwarded was too great, however, and he immediately launched a campaign to raise funds for a new church building here.

How successful Dr. Owen was in his endeavors, the elegant structure which the congregation now occupies bears mute evidence. The labors coincident with so pretentious an undertaking were, however, too great for the constitution already weakened by past endeavors, and long before the building was completed, it was evident that the strain was getting to be to great. Several times he had spells of illness and his friends advised him to relinquish his hopes of the great accomplishment. But Dr. Owen, with that sturdy perservering nature so characteristic of the English, would not hear to giving up a project once started. Often when physically unfit for the strenuosities of the work he would work day and night on his pet object and finally succeeded in bringing it to a successful conclusion.

Dr. Owen lived to enjoy his new church only a few weeks, however. The illnes with which he had been afflicted, aggravated by the overwork and severe mental strain, proved too much for the body which had been driven beyond its power of endurance by the energetic spirit.

Funeral services were held Thursday for the departed pastor in the building which stands as a memorial to his efforts. Hundreds of mourning friends, members of the congregation and pastors from many different cities of California gathered to pay their last respects to the great churchman. The service was conducted by Presiding Elder Carl Warner, a close personal friend of the deceased. In this he was assisted by Rev. E. H. Molony, formerly pastor of St. Peter's Episcopal church and a staunch friend of Dr. Owen. Lida-Ruth Medefind rendered most beautifully two of the late pastor's favorite hymns, opening the service with "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Me." She was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Herman.

Funeral arrangements were made by Layng and Tinney. Six friends of the deceased pastor acted as pall bearers. They were Frank Osborne, Joe Gibson, Stanley Netherton, Alex Cuthbertson, Albert Arends and Donald Bogle.

The services in the church were followed by interment in Cypress Lawn cemetery.

BOY'S DEATH LEADS TO DRIVER'S ARREST

Facing charges which have attracted attention throughout the state and have been the subject of much spirited discussion in this county, Harry Court, Burlingame auto dealer, is in jail here in absence of the required bail, which was set by Justice of the Peace Bird at $10,000. Court faces three serious charges as the result of having run down and killed Fred Hokamp, 13-year-old Boy Scout of San Mateo last Thursday.

The Hokamp boy had been awarded a medal by the Scout director of San Mateo, and was hurrying home on his bicycle to show it to his parents when a machine traveling at a tremendous speed and driven by a drunken driver, ran him down and sped away without any offer of assistance. The boy died shortly after in the Mills Memorial Hospital.

Later Court is reported to have admitted being the driver of the death car. Court is said to have told of the accident to Dr. B. C. N. O'Reilly, a San Francisco physician, residing in Burlingame, and also to his fiance, Miss Sproule. The arrest of the two latter was asked of District Attorney Franklin Swart by Chief Harper of San Mateo. This Swart, refused, however, as he states that under the law a person can be arrested for concealing a criminal, but than no grounds for the arrest of these persons could be found since Court was not at the time that he talked to either of them either accused or convicted of the crime. Dr. O'Reilly states that Court came to him in a high state of intoxication and was so much under the influence of liquor that his speech was almost incomprehensible. The physician advised him to go home and sober up. Further evidence that the parties whose arrest Swart has refused to swear out warrants for were connected with the crime has not been adduced.

Court is awaiting trial on three charges, manslaughter, driving while intoxicated and failure to render aid.

MANUFACTURING PLANT RAZED BY MORNING BLAZE

A fire early Saturday morning caused it is believed by a flareback from one of the boilers, completely destroyed the magnesia mill of the Plant Ruber and Asbestos Co., located on the marsh east of here Damage estimated at about $200,000 was done to the plant and to the large quantity of finished product which was in the destroyed portion of the plant. The warehouse, where the greater part of the finished product was stored was saved by the efforts of the fire department and was not damaged in any way.

The fire was discovered at about 7 o'clock Saturday morning. The local department answered an alarm from the plant, only to find that the fire had gained such headway that it was only after many hours of the most strenuous work that it was possible to confine the fire.

Before the flames could be checked the extensive chemical plant of the establishment had been converted into a tangled mass of twisted pipes and glowing coals. Several of the drying kilns, long sheds heated by oil burners, were consumed, and a small warehouse where hundreds of sacks of magnesia plaster were stored burned leaving the expensive plaster a soden muddy mass, which became sloppy from the water which was thrown upon it and added to the discomforts of the firemen. The work of the department was also hampered by the greasy smoke of the flaming oil burners which had been used for heating the kilns.

Fire Chief Mark Ryan, in order to secure a sufficient supply of water for figthing the flames, threw a hose into the ponds of the salt refining company which adjoins the burned plant and for hours the plant was deluged with several streams of salt water.

The plant was started experimentally several years ago, and was at that time known as the Merrill Magnesia Co. A process of manufacture of magneisa insulating material from magnesium carbonate obtained from the bay water was developed. As the process proved to be expedient and economical the plant was enlarged and a considerable industry grew up on the marsh. The insulating material is used for covering steam pipes and boilers to retain the heat and prevent radiation. It was prepared in the local plant in the form of a plastic cement put up in sacks, in square blocks and in the form of semi-cylindrical pipe coverings of various sizes.

The local factory was taken over a few years ago by the Plant Rubber and Asbestos Co. of San Francisco. The manager of the plant is W. L. Meussdorffer. It is the intention of the owners to reconstruct the damaged plant at once, it was stated this week. As the old plant was somewhat of a growth, formed by accretions which were from time time added to the experimental plant, it is said that a better and more convenient manufactory will be constructed than the one destroyed.

THE WORLD COURT

AMERICA has at last found her place in the World Court. By the vote of Congress this week, this nation will assume her place with the other nations of the world in their efforts to avert the calamities of war. The World Court is an experiment, it is true, but all great movements had at one time an experimental stage. A central government for the various states of this nation was at one time an experiment, and was opposed far more bitterly than even its chief opponents oppose the World Court today. It was claimed that the various states of this country could not exist in the federation of states which became our Union. It was claimed, and the claimants had as much evidence to back their figures as the present opponents have to back theirs, that in such a federation, one powerful state would rule the weaker states and use them as its tools. Yet the great American nation, developed from the centralized government and no one today but will say that this country is only great because the various states came together for their mutual benefit.

Had it not been for this agreement between the states, each state would have settled its disputes with other states, and there would have been many, by force of arms. As it is, any such disputes are heard before the Supreme Court and the people of the nation are happy and prosperous.

The World Court may not do away with war. The world has been cursed with war as far back as history or tradition can take us, and for any institution to free the world of war in a few months' time would be a miracle. The World Court, however, will be a step in the right direction, and if it will avert one war, and it has done that in several cases already, it is certainly worth while.

In the days of the caveman every individual settled his own disputes with his club, later the tribe waged war with all neighboring tribes, and no one was safe from attack at any time. Gradually nations formed from the aggregation of tribes who came together for their common good, and then except in time of war a fair degree of safety was secured to the individual. Today the world has come to a state of civilization where it cannot longer brook the wholesale murder of war, and whether they will or not, the nations must eventually develop a plan by which differences will be settled without bloodshed. The World Court is an experiment, but it will, we believe be to great extent successful. When we can see a better way, we will discard the World Court. Until then it must be upheld.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT

IN accordance with a recommendation made by Fire Chief Ryan some time ago, the town board is now considering the erection of a second fire house and the purchase of additional equipment for the protection of that portion of town on the west of the railway and highway. We most heartily sanction the proposal.

Redwood City is blessed with an unusually efficient fire department, and the town has been remarkably free from destructive fires in the residential district, in fact as we think back over the years, we cannot remember one home destroyed by fire within the limits of this city. And this is true even for the days when the men of the town used to push the great reel of hose on two wheels which constituted our fire equipment.

The present department has never had an accident in crossing the highway or the railway tracks. But we have seen the engine halted while a train pulled out of the station, and we often hold our breath as the huge fire truck dashes across the heavily traveled highway. Both crossings are dangerous.

The people of Redwood City owe it to the fire department for their performances and present efforts to make their work as safe as possible. A second fire house to serve the western part of town would help in a great measure to accomplish this. It would also increase the safety of that section of town in a large proportion. We believe that Mark Ryan's recommendation is a most logical one and one that comes from an intimate understanding of present conditions and an insight into the future. We believe that the board of trustees will not go wrong if they accept every recommendation made by the fire chief, and their efforts to make the town as safe from fire as possible will be appreciated by the people of Redwood City.

THE great soul of Cardinal Mercier has gone to its creator. A world mourns for the brave and learned priest who displayed true patriotism when the enemy invaded his country. He defied and challenged the invaders and urged his people to stand by their guns and resist to the last ditch the onward march of the Germans who had taken possession of the land he loved so well.

Other times and other men will do full justice to the magnificent patriotism of the saintly cardinal Monuments will be built in Belgium and in other countries to his memory as time goes on and volumes will be written extolling the achievements of the great patriot and churchman. All creeds and all races honor this gifted man for his work in the great war.

Cardinal Mercier was a true exponent of the divine injunction, Pro Deo Pro Patria, for God and for country. He was faithful to his Master and served his country with all the devotion and bravery of a true patriot and was willing and even ready to sacrifice his body upon the sacred altar of his beloved home land.

Cardinal Mercier was the outstanding figure of the late war. No patriot soared to the eminence of the great cardinal and no man did more than he to stop the ravages of the enemy.

May his soul rest in peace.

NEW SCHOOLS AND OLD

IT has been suggested that the Central School on Broadway be sold to make way for the increasing business district of the city. The school occupies a position in the heart of the business section of the town, and a whole block of the best business property in Redwood City is being used for school and playground purposes. It would be better, we think to sell the present site of the school and build a new and more modern building on some other piece of property which can be purchased at a price far below that obtainable for this choice business location.

An attracive offer has been made for the present school site by parties who contemplate erecting a block of fine business buildings. We should be sorry to see the old building, which has been a landmark in Redwood City for the past twenty-five years, torn down. Yet we cannot deny the advisability of such a move. The old wooden structure is not fire proof, and its high winding staircases, would make a fire unusually dangerous. Furthermore a school on one floor would be far better for the small children who must use the building than the present one in which they must climb several flights of steps in order to reach the class room.

There is no doubt that a change will have to be made before long, and at the present time a tract of four acres has been offered to the school at a really low figure. We believe that the best interests of the people of the town and of the city too, will be served by making the change at this time.

—o—o—o—

THE OLD TOWN CLOCK

WHILE on the subject of the school we would like to say a few words for our old friend, the town clock. We do not know whether any plans have been made for the disposal of this old landmark, but we hope that some way will be found in the event that the school is sold, to maintain the old clock in some conspicuous place in town.

The old town clock for the past quarter of a century has struck out the hours and half-hours for the town, and morning and evening, its pleasant face has told the time to those going to work and going home. The town clock is an institution of the town, and has a history rather interesting in itself.

Money for installing the old clock was obtained in part from the initial performance of the Alhambra Theatre, which opened here on January 20, 1896, just thirty years ago last week. The performance was entitled, "Men and Women," and was played by the Frawley Company, a traveling troupe of players. A large attendance was present and quite a large sum of money was raised. Other funds were raised by a performance given by the pupils of the school and from other sources.

If the school authorities decide to tear down the old school and do not plan to put it in the new building, we believe that the clock might with propriety, be given to the city and could without much expense be erected on the fire house. This is our suggestion, perhaps there are better one, if so, we would like to hear them. But we do believe that the old town clock is a valuable adjunct to Redwood City and should be preserved for the townspeople.

BELL A PROPHET OF AVIATION AS CHIEF DEFENSE

Inventor Matched Remarkable Telephone Forecast With Another on Aircraft

Was Alexander Graham Bell's vision of the future of aviation as accurate as the prophecy he made in 1878 when only a few miles measured the farthest flight of man's voice by telephone wire? At that time he said:

"It is conceivable that cables of telephone wires could be laid underground, or suspended overhead, communicating by branch wires with private dwellings, country houses, shops, manufactories, etc., uniting them through the main cable with a central office where the wire could be connected as desired, establishing direct communication between any two places in the city. Such a plan as this, though impractical at the present moment, will, I firmly believe, be the outcome of the introduction of the telephone to the public. Not only so, but I believe in the future wires will unite the head offices of the telephone companies in different cities, and a man in one part of the country may communicate by word of mouth with another in a distant place."

In 1908 the question of the future of aviation was being vigorously debated in this country. The progress of the art at that time was comparable to that made by the telephone in 1878. In the discussion that arose, many newspaper and magazine articles were published, and in answer to one of these Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, in the May issue of the Century Magazine of that year, wrote:

"It is obvious that sea power will become of secondary importance when air power has been fully developed through the use of dirigible balloons and flying machines in war. The nation that secures control of the air will ultimately rule the world."

Cleaning Without Odor by the F. Thomas Process

Our many years of experience has taught us that it is impossible to do perfect cleaning with cheap, inferior methods. That is why we found it necessary to invest nearly $500,000 in the equipment of a plant and the establishment of an expert organization to do the quality of work demanded bp our customers.

With the "F. Thomas Process" we not only remove every particle of dust but we return your garments without that usual disagreeable smell of gasoline. Every drop of gasoline we use in cleaning is redistilled and very highly refined.

Raw gasoline—the kind that you buy for your automobile—is full of heavy oils and unfit for cleaning fabrics. t is little better than ordinary distillate and leaves a sickening gasoline smell in your clothes.

GANG WARFARE IN CHANEY'S NEWEST "THE BLACK BIRD"

Theft and Countertheft of Diamond Collar in New Film

When two master crooks come in contact with one another, both bent on the same objects, you may look for fireworks usually, but a great picture has been the result of just such a situation in Tod Browning's production of "The Black Bird", which will play at the Sequoia Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 1 and 2.

Lon Chaney plays one of the crooks in this Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, and Owen Moore, the other. The combination of Lon Chaney, Tod Browning and Waldemar Young, scenarists made the tremendously successful, "The Unholy Three" of last season, and "The Black Bird" is said by many to be an even greater achievement than the former success.

"The Black Bird" is Browning's own story. While not similar in plot to any of Thomas Burke's stories, it contains much of the atmosphere of his "Limehouse Nights," tales dealing as it does with London's famous Limehouse district.

By a special camera process Browning and his cameraman, Percy Hilburn, have caught the eerie quality of the London fog as it has never before been transferred to the screen, and that alone would be a sensation to the treatregoers.

Renee Adoree, who made such a tremendous hit in "The Big Parade," plays "Fifi" and the supporting cast includes Doris Lloyd, Andy McLennan, William Weston, Eric Mayne, Sidney Bracy, Ernie S. Adams, and Polly Moran.

NEWCOMERS PLAY LEADS IN CINEMA

Sally O'Neil, Joan Crawford and Constance Bennett in Title Roles

Is there a chance for the newcomers in pictures?

All words to the contrary are brushed aside with such an example as "Sally Irene and Mary" presents. This is the Edmund Goulding production coming to the Sequoia Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 3 and 4.

None of the three girls engaged for the title roles have been on the screen more than two years and none of them have ever played extra.

Constance Bennett, who is playing Sally in this production, came to the screen two years ago when she enacted one of the leading roles in "Cytherea." She had no previous experience on the stage or screen, but she came from a famous theatrical family, headed by her father, Richard Bennett.

Joan Crawford, who plays Irene, has only been on the screen for the past six months. She was a dancer in New York, was given a screen test and was immediately signed by the M. G. M. Company. She began by playing small roles, but has never been an "extra."

Sally O'Neil is the third member of the trio. As Mary she reaches the zenith of her career so far, which has been brilliant and unusual.

She visited a Hollywood restaurant less than a year ago. Marshall Neilan saw her and thought her the exact type he wanted for the lead in "Mike." A test picture proved that he was right and she was given the role. A lead in another M. G. M. production, "Don't" immediately followed and she was put under contract to the company.

So all three girls, unknown to the picture-going public a few months ago, have won the coveted roles in this brilliant production, which Goulding directed.

William Haines has the male lead in the picture, which is an adaptation of Edward Dowling's popular play written by Director Edmund Goulding.

The Bible Class

At a Brooklyn reception President Butler of Columbia said of the fundamentalist-modernist quarrels:

"These quarrels about whether man evolved from the ape or was created in Eden, and whether Joshua really made the sun stand still and so on—well, they remind me of a Bible class.

"'In the Deluge,' said the teacher, 'all living creatures were drowned except those taken aboard the Ark.'

"'I deny that,' said a member of the class. 'Millions escaped.'

"'How dare you? That is false,' said the teacher. 'What millions are you talking about?'

"'The millions of fishes,' said the class member."

TRUSTEES IN SESSION

The board of trustees of the town of San Carlos held its regular meeting Monday evening at the San Carlos school house. A large number of citizens attended. Among some of the important matters considered was the rescinding of the action taken at the previous meeting for work on Laurel street, which matter is to be considered later. It was thought that in view of the various other improvements necessary on streets throughout the town, coupled with another petition for like work presented by certain property owners on Walnut street, that it might be possible to do all this work at one time. Therefore, in order that the board could give more thought to these improvements it was deemed advisable to have the engineer furnish all of the pertinent facts and figures in connection with the various kind of street work before starting any proceedings.

The board took cognizance of the petition filed by property owners along the highway and moved that this petition be accepted, establishing the sidewalks to grade.

A request by the P. G. & E. Co. for permission to extend poles along Morse boulevard of the Lyon and Hoag tract was denied.

A permit was granted the San Carlos Water Company to open the county road for a certain stretch to allow the installation of a six-inch water line.

Necessary easements having been received for Resolution of Intention No. 2 (sewer work) a resolution ordering the work done was passed and February 8 was the date set for receiving sealed bids.

A permit was granted Montgomery & Hall, who are developing harbor addition in San Carlos, to lay sidewalks on Montgomery street, and also on Bay Port avenue running north. The next meeting will be held Feb. 8, at 7:30 p. m.

John McCue, Robert Hanford, William Richter and W. Badie motored to Stockton on Saturday last.

Mrs. Eugenia Gorse, mother of Charles E. Gorse, while visiting her son was taken suddenly ill. She is convalescing and is doing nicely.

The San Carlos Trucking & Fuel Company has now been merged in the San Carlos Feed and Fuel Company. The directorate consists of K. A. Winters, Joseph F. Nash, G. C. Morgan, W. L. Kenealy and Emil B. Frizzie. George C. Morgan is manager of the feed and fuel department, while Joe Nash has the direction of the trucking, sand, gravel, brick and cement business. Capitalization is for $50,000.

Miss Cameal Cerf of San Francisco was the dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Hartwell on Sunday.

Mrs. B. Lovejoy was a visitor at the home of Mrs. B. Shull on Saturday.

Mrs. Ernest West and sons, Leonard and Jack, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Clark on Friday.

S. Potter of San Francisco was a business visitor in town on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Clark, E. R. Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Drake, Miss Anita Kunze and Mrs. Fred Odgers and Mrs. A. Dennery attended the masquerade ball given by the Belmont P.-T. A. on Saturday evening.

George Molema and Mrs. F. Rushing both of San Francisco were visitors at the Molema property on Sunday.

Mrs. Norman H. Martin and daughter Betty Dean were week end visitors at the home of Mrs. Charles Reisigner at San Francisco.

Inspector Frank S. Quinn of the State Motor Vehicle Department, has been assigned to duty at San Francisco during the heavy registration and has joined his wife and young son who are visiting with her parents at their home on Magnolia avenue. Inspector Quinn expects to be here for several weeks.

It consists of a granular substance forming cells for the shelter of the eggs of the insect and incrusting the twigs of various East Indian trees. THE IMPORTANCE OF OUR EYES

By Dr. Chas E. Penez

In this day where competition in all branches plays the spurring part of our livlihood we should first protect our greatest asset which is our eyes, sight being the foremost of the five senses; the one that really makes living worth while. Because you can see, it is no reason that you see correctly. If each eye were given perfect sight they still might not be in muscalar balance. Like a team of horses they should pull in even tension or there would be discord.

Nature gave to the human being, sight, not to be used in artificial light and not for continued close work. Civilization now demands an excess strain upon the eyes and science has come forward to meet that demand by developing a practical medium to take full care of that extra taxation. The eyes were intended for, and originally adapted to, out-of-door use, and when they are required to do near work constantly, then a strain is developed to sustain the near focus.

The demonstration of directing rays of light to a focus accomplished by the use of a magnifying glass, is an experiment that most children have made; and it is this very principle that the human eye is trying to perform with light rays entering the same. The light rays enter through the human lense of the eye and should focus to a point on the retina from thence it is transmitted to the brain by the optic nerve where it becomes visible to our consciousness. If the light rays do not come to a focus on the retina a true image cannot be transmitted. But, by the use of corrective lenses the light rays are made to focus corerctly.

Defective vision may be classed in four groups. First—Acuteness of Vision. Second—Muscular Imbalance. After the examination has been made for the above correctness lenses prescribed it is exceedingly important that these lenses be placed in an exact position to give the required results.

We are always ready to get anything that is for our pleasure, but reluctant we are to procure things that are for our necessity. Those who have automobiles generally have a spare tire but how many people who wear glasses have an extra pair in case of breakage or loss?

Remember that a child's future depends on the condition of its eyes. It is therefore a parent's duty to have an examination made to see if there are any defects that not visible by your observation. Teeth can be replaced but artificial eyes cannot bring back sight. One glance conveys more to the eye than pages of writing. Weak eyes and efficiency never yet occupied the same head at the same time.

The eye has the greatest nerve supply of any organ in the body. Next to the heart it worked the hardest. It is estimated that the average person with normal eyes, uses 15% of the entire nerve energy. The uneasy feeling in the visual centers commences early in the morning for a continuation of approximately sixteen hours. Those who wait for the serious eye troubles must be prepared for serious consequences. Half of all the eye losses start from over work and neglected eye ailments. Litle things—an ache, smarting lids, floating specks, headaches, objects jumbled, indistinct outline and objects—all are troubles that optometry can relieve if given timely attention.

Those who have the best eyes throughout life are those who protect them at the proper time when nature demands help. PRIDE and neglect have ruined more eyes than disease.

An Ophtha'mologist generally known as an oculist is one who is qualified to operate on, and treat diseases of the eye. An optician is one possessing the knowledge of grinding lenses. An optometrist is fortified with a broad knowledge of the laws of vision and the organ of sight, essential to the proper fitting of spectacles and care of the eyes; one qualified by legal recognition to correct defects of the eye and preserve eyesight. This study requires an optometrist to serve 2000 hours of application at a recognized college while a physician is required to apply only 50 hours study of the eye.

When you find your eyes are at fault in some way, and go to competent optometrist for an examination you naturally exepct more than a mere test of sight. You should expect and should see that you receive skilled service and honest advise.

The optometrist is required, first of all to know the difference between health and disease, and for this reason the first step in his examination must be a thorough search for conditions which cannot be corrected by lenses, or by muscular exercise. This your protection and your right; if he neglects to make such an examination he is not performing his duty to you nor to himself.

TELEPHONE CABLE FOR LONDON AND GLASGOW

A couple of years ago there were but ten telephone circuits connecting the cities of London and Glasgow. However, an elaborate cable system is now taking definite shape, and it is stated that no fewer than 240 telephone circuits will be available in the near future between the two cities. The 440 miles of cable which have been laid contain 185,-300 miles of wire; the lead sheathing weighs 6,000 tons, the copper conductors over 2,300 tons, and the insulating paper 500 tons.

In arranging for this elaborate increase of telephone circuits, not only were present requirements considered, but provision was made to take care of the increase in business for many years to come.

NEWS OF MENLO PARK

J. J. Harcom, the well known, builder and contractor and capitalist, is confined to his home in Stanford Park. Last week he slipped on the sidewalk and injured his arm. His many friends will be pleased to know that he is convalescing and will soon be about again. Mr. Harcom is one of Menlo's most progressive and substantial citizens.

Father Bernard J. McKinnon, who died in San Francisco on January 20, was the pastor of the Church of Nativity here twenty years ago and he was the priest who organized the church at Palo Alto and was its first pastor. He built the present edifice there. He was a relative of Father McKinnon, the hero of the Philippines. The deceased was a devout and holy priest who worked earnestly in the vineyard of his Divine Master who has called him to his eternal reward.

On Monday the stork left a ten-pound baby boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Maloney, residing on Pine street. This street is noted for the visitations of the old bird.

The last will and testament of E. W. Hopkins was filed for probate in the Superior court of San Francisco this week. The estate is valued in excess of $5,000,000 nearly all of which was left to the children of the deceased. Not a dollar was bequeathed to charity. Only one private bequest was made to a friend. His wife was left the sum of $10,000 and an annuity of $750 a month. Two grandchildren will receive each under the terms of the will $10,000.

The fire department of East Palo Alto will give a masquerade ball in the school auditorium this evening. It is to be the big event of that section. All the officeholders of the county will be the judges. Many of the fire boys here are to attend.

The Mercantile Bank here opened on Monday morning with a blaze of glory. Friends of the institution sent flowers to honor the occasion and many called to pay their respects to the personnel of the bank. The first depositor in the commercial department was John H. Sullivan and in the savings bank, James G. Mason. The institution began business in the most favorable auspices and the owners are sanguine of its success.

Peter Flanagan, formerly in charge of the Knights of Columbus activities at the base hospital, Menlo Park, has been transferred to the U. S. Veterans' hospital at Livermore. Mr. Flanagan during the war was in charge of the K. C. building at Camp Fremont. He is an atlete of more than ordinary ability and a gentleman of a high order.

The men of the Church of the Nativity are preparing for the annual St. Patrick's Day celebration which will be observed by an entertainment in the church hall on Tuesday evening, March 16. This annual affair has always been looked upon as the big event of the season, which invariably draws a crowded house. The performance last year was an excellent one that brought forth many comments. The committee this year promises even a superior show. Talent from all portions of the county and San Francisco will participate. Tickets will soon be issued for sale so secure one that you may be certain of a seat on that evening for the hall is sure to be crowded to the dors.

Supervisor John MacBain is constructing shoulders on the Middlefield road from the San Francisquito creek to the Atherton line at the intersection of the Ringwood road. The edges of the thoroughfare have been wearing considerable lately and these shoulders will help preserve one of the very best roads in the county. It is to be hoped that the Trustees of Atherton can see their way clear to continue the good work through their municipality. The improvement is needed.

The Menlo Feed and Fuel Company, E. E. Derry, proprietor, is erecting a large concrete building on its property on the highway to care for the rapidly increasing business of the concern. The structure will cost in the neighborhood of $7,000.

A little bird from the base hospital is spreading the news of an impending wedding of one of the popular officals there and well known in Menlo Park and a pretty nurse conected with the institution. It is said the nuptials will be performed before the Ides of April are here.

A dance will be given tonight in the T. N. T. hall by the Menlo Park Merchants' Association. All the old-fashioned dances and all the late maneuvers will be participated in so that the young and old may mingle in the merriment. Bring your best girl, Kate or Pearl with a whirl, but don't bring Lulu. I'll bring her myself. Omigosh.

On February 4th the Native Daughters will give an afternoon card party in Duff and Doyle hall. Good prizes.

The stork left a baby boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Kennedy on Friday of last week. The proud father is the well-known Irish patriot who fought in the Republican army during the troublesome times in the old land. He held the office of colonel.

The Native Daughters and Native Sons will give a joint dance in Duff and Doyle hall on February 6th. The proceeds will go to the homeless children's fund. The cause is a meriterious one and everyone should attend or purchase a ticket.

Girl Scouts of Menlo Park and girls in the eighth grade of the Menlo Park grammar school gave a farewell party a few days ago at the parish house of Trinity Episcopal church for Tanya Gnoocheff, niece of Baron Boodberg of Menlo Park, who left Saturday for Washington, D. C., to join her parents.

The fire department of East Palo Alto will give a masquerade in the school auditorium this evening. The judges to award prizes will compride all the county officers, Mr. and Mrs. Kneese, D. P. Flynn, T. C. Rise, T. C. McGovern, J. J. Shields, A. McSweeney, and Franklin Swart will be there to make awards. There are to be innumerable costumes of every kind and variety so it will be difficult for the judges to satisfy every one but they are capable and like Solomon of old, will find away out of the difficulty.

F. B. Grill, the well-known poultry man whose place of business is on Encinal avenue, opposite the Felton estate, has announced his candidacy for the office of constable of the Third township. Mr. Grill is a young man possessing all the necessary qualifications for the office which he will fill with credit to himself and to the people of the township, if elected.

Mrs. Annie McKnight, a pioneer of Menlo Park, passed away at her home late Thursday night. following a long illness. She was a native of Ireland, aged 83 years. The funeral will take place this morning at 10:30 o'clock, from Trinity Episcopal church. Interment will be in Union cemetery, Redwood City. The body will be placed along side of the remains of her husband who predeceased her many years ago. She is survived by an only son, Irvin McNight.

Boyd Braden, the local realty man, has been appointed the agent for the Oldsmobile and Peerless automobiles. His territory is from San Mateo to San Jose. His headquarters will be at his new garage on the highway that will be finished on February 15, when the garage will be formally opened with an entertainment. Mr. Braden will continue in the real estate business. William Hoff will be in charge of the garage.

E. B. Hinman Heads C. of C.

Elmore B. Hinman, who as president last year of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce, guided that organization through one of the most suspicious years in the history of the local organization, was this week reappointed to the position he filled so ably last year. Hinman's reappointment as president of the Redwood City Chamber of Comemrce was made at the first meeting of the newly elected directors held Wednesday night.

Under the leadership of E. B. Hinman, the local business body was able last year to show a record of accomplishment seldom equaled by such a civic organization. It was in recognition of this fact and of the earnest endeavor which has characterized all of Hinman's work in the chamber of commerce, that he was again placed in the presiding office of the organization.

Asa Hull, of Hull Brothers hardware store, was elected vice-president, Frank F. Towne, treasurer, and Mrs. A. R. Holmes was again selected as secretary. The directors who were elected last week at the annual meeting of the organization were E. B. Hinman, William Dusel, Harry Groom, Henry Witte, Zepho Thoming, Asa Hull, Gilman Merrill, Joe Gibson and Harold Powers.

Plans were discussed at the directors' meeting for the enlargement of the membership of the organization, and a scheme weherby it is hoped to increase the membership to about 200 was considered. It is planned to assign each of the directors to a certain portion of the city, from which he is to endeavor to gain new members. The matter will be worked out fn further detail at the next meeting of the directors, which will take place next Wednesday.

Woodside Notes

Misses Anne and Sara Walmsley of Boston, Mass., were week-end guests of Mrs. O. E. Blackington. This is their first visit to California and they are filled with the proper enthusiasm for the state, notwithstanding the fact that the cold weather here reminded them strongly of home. They left on Tuesday for Los Angeles, enroute to Boston.

Certain scenes in a forth coming film production were "shot" this week at the William Byrne place at Woodside to the great delight of the youngsters of the neighborhood, some of whom expect to appear in the picture. The scenes taken dealt with cow-boy life on the range, with bucking bronchos and plenty of gun play.

George D. Squires has been ill at his home here for several days. He was taken to the hospital in an ambulance on Friday morning.

Mrs. William White is suffering with a very painful hand. She ran a broken needle so deeply into the palm of her hand that the X-Ray was required to locate it and the surgeon's knife to remove it.

Miss Teresa Burolo is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Emanuel.

Mrs. O. C. Smith has received word that the vessel upon which her son is serving as mate, was afire during the pasage of the Panama Canal. The fire was extinguished without great damage to ship or cargo.

Melba Lewis, formerly of Woodside, was married this week at Burlingame.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Pond and family spent last Saturday and Sunday at their home here.

Covington Pringle entertained a number of his school mates at a theater party to see the "Vanishing American."

Floyd Kelley has taken up his residence again with his family in Wood-

The Nielsen property on the highway arross from the grammar school property has been sold to a Palo Alto party, subject to confirmation of sale by the Probate court.

A valuabe Persian cat was stolen from the Lynch Nurseries this week. The party who purloined the feline is known and unless it is returned by February 6, arrests will follow:

Mark Loughlin, who went to the railroad hospital recently, is recovering and will soon be able to return to Menlo Park. This will be good news for his many friends here.

It was rumored yesterday that Timothy Hapkins is to become president of the Mercantile Trust Company's bank at Palo Alto, which has a branch in Menlo Park. Therefore he will be affiliated with the institution here. Itis hoped that the story is correct for Mr. Hopkins is a splendid finacier and a good progressive citizen who would add prestige to those institutions and then again he is a Menlo Park man. The people here are always proud of the achievements of their favorite sons.

The Menlo Park Study Club will meet Monday afternoon at the Presbyterian church with a business meeting at 2 o'clock and an open meeting at 3 o'clock to which the public is invited. Mrs. Lucy McClintic of San Jose, district chairman of San Francisco district of Women's Clubs, will be the speaker on "Law Enforcement. Good music will also be furnished. Mrs. McClintic is well known and a popular speaker and a good attendace is solicited.

TWO INCHES IN LAST RAIN

Jupiter Pluvius has been quite generous in the copious rain that began falling Thursday afternoon and continuing until late in the night and to an early hour yesterday morning. The total rain fall for the storm nas been 1.70 inches, making a total of 4.25 inches for the season which is about two inches below the rain fall at this time last year. The rain fall is still below normal. The storm is timely saving a bad situation that was apparent. With a little more rain the present difficulties will be tieded over, but there must be considerably more to insure a good crop. The lowering clouds portend the impending storm that will probably break today or tomorrow which means an added supply which will help to make the farmers, fruit growers and others happy.
